

FRANKFORT READY TO CELEBRATE CENTENNIAL

From Up Here One Can See Practically All Of Frankfort

STAR DRIVER WILL SPEAK AT LIONS DINNER

Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park is to address the Mokena Lions club tonight at their regular dinner meeting at the Lincolnwood Drive-In.

Tony is glad that he can be the speaker and his friends are glad for him for many will remember that last August he was in a Chicago hospital, on the critical list with a skull fracture, as a result of a crash in a midjet race at Soldiers' field, his 21st crack-up incidentally.

At that time no one thought Tony would ever race again. The only hope of his family and friends was that he would recover so he could just be around. They weren't thinking about a further career in racing - but Tony was.

He had won many honors and considerable money in various auto races about the country but it was the "Big One" that beckoned him on. Tony was no stranger to the Memorial Day 500-mile classic at Indianapolis. He had started in that race eight times but never had a car that was able to finish.

This time, he resolved, was going to be different. When H. A. Chapman, an oil man called Bettenhausen and asked him to drive the car that Tony had driven in the 1954 classic, the Tinley man asked a few questions.

The car in question had been owned by Mel Wiggers of Lincoln, Ill. Chapman bought it from Wiggers. Tony wanted to know if that was the only car Chapman was interested in and when he found out that it was and who was going to get it ready for the 1955 race, Tony agreed to pilot it.

He asked no money for his services, telling Chapman he was willing to gamble of the 40 per cent of all the money the car took in.

As it turned out it was a good gamble. It was a rough race at Indianapolis last Memorial Day but Tony rode it out and finished second—not far off from first. His winning from the race itself were quite substantial but his finish in that race enhanced his box office value at other races and since Indianapolis Tony has been driving in a lot of races and picking up more money.

According to Tony a 30 lap sprint race, on high banks, is tougher than the 500 but the worst race of them all and one which he says he has no desire to ever try again is the Mexican road race.

Dinner is scheduled for 7 o'clock to be followed by Bettenhausen's talk. Ray Westlund, president of the Mokena Lions, has made arrangements for the showing of the official film of the 1955 Memorial Day race.

Tinley Will Enter
Float In Frankfort
Centennial Parade

The Tinley Park Chamber of Commerce is to enter a float in the Frankfort Centennial parade Sunday, Aug. 14, so designed as to represent all types of business establishments in Tinley.

The most decorative feature of the float, the committee said, will be three girls—one of whom will be queen and the others her ladies in waiting.

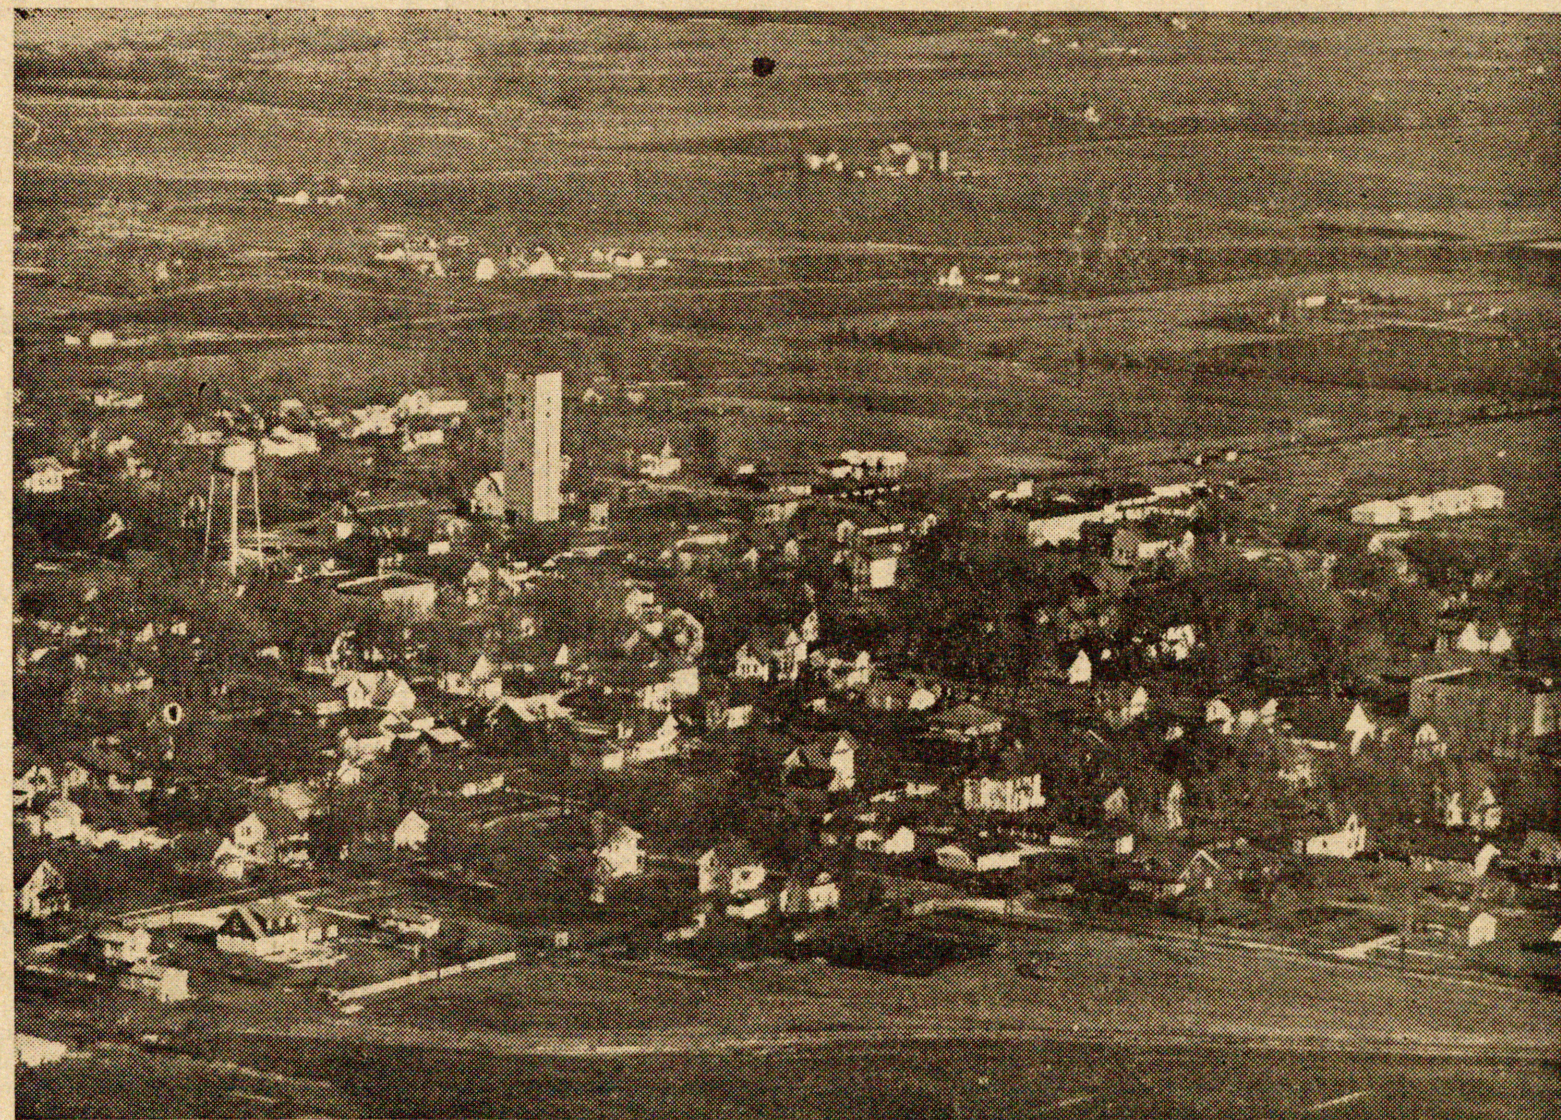

The queen will be selected by vote. Tinley Park residents will cast their ballots in the contest at any of the business places in that village. The two girls who receive the next highest number of votes will be ladies in waiting.

Voting is to begin today, Aug. 4 and continue thru next Thursday, Aug. 11.

There is no list of candidates for queens. The contest will be an open affair with the people choosing their own candidates. It was said, however, that the queen contestants should range in age between 14 and 20.

Grand Opening Of Remodeled Store
Is Big Success

The grand opening of the Grobarik Royal Blue store in Mokena was such a success last weekend, that instead of giving away 12 baskets of groceries the number was increased to 46. Two baskets were given free every hour, and because of the large attendance, the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Grobarik decided to make up more baskets, until finally the number reached 46. But they didn't mind, they were very happy to think so many people came to see their new store.

The founders of Frankfort would be amazed at the number of neat, pleasant homes and the growth of the village since the townsite was first laid out.

But they would be amazed even more at this picture because here in the world could anyone take a picture from up in the air. There were balloons in those days but not at Frankfort. This picture, incidentally, was taken by the Loebe Co., of Chicago, which makes pictorial tapes, and shows some of the farmland surrounding the village. Everything is in readiness now for Frankfort's 100th birthday party which will be held Aug. 10-14.

Legislature Gives
Village Trustees
Increase In Pay

Village trustees have been given a boost in pay by the Illinois general assembly.

In the last session, which ended last month, trustees of villages or less than 60,000 population, and that should include all of them except Oak Park—were given an increase in pay from $5 to $10 a day.

Also of interest many townships is the act of the legislature fixing the minimum pay for town assessors in townships under 14,000 population at $8 a day. The limit had been $5.

In counties where there is a county assessor the legislature left the sky as the limit for his salary, and the same is true for county supervisors of assessments.

County board members have been authorized to boost their own pay up to $12 a day and to hike the travel pay from 7 1/2 to 10 cents a mile. Maximum salaries of county probation officers and county veteran commission superintendents of school were given a $1,500 a year salary boost by the assembly and salaries for assistant county superintendents were raised.

The legislators gave themselves a 80 per cent boost in pay, from $5,000 to $6,000 a year but that bill was vetoed by Gov. Stratton. A general increase in pay for state employees was also passed but was nullified by a legislative fluke, according to the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois.

Sunny Acres Would
Confine Business
To One Section

At the meeting of the Sunny Acres Home Owners association last week it was decided that no objections would be made to the plan for rezoning property at Wolf rd. and 193rd st. to permit the operation of a liquor store, grocery, parking lot and a home.

Permission is being sought by Joseph Malher to rezone his lot at 194th st. and Wolf rd. for business. Residents of the area are reported to be desirous of limiting reclassification of property for commercial purposes to this one block.

Lions Paper Drive
Nets Over 7 Tons

The Mokena Lions club are happy to report on the paper and scrap iron drive they sponsored in Mokena last Thursday evening. They collected 15,670 pounds of paper; 70 pounds of rags and 1,640 pounds of iron.

The Lions are grateful for the fine cooperation as well as the library sponsors, which assures them of several months rent for the library. It is thought the collection will total around $50.

ENTERTAINMENT IS BOOKED FOR HOMECOMING

The Mokena Homecoming committee is busy now with plans for entertaining the visitors and hometown people during the celebration Aug. 19-21.

Tentatively scheduled for the night of the 19th—a Friday—is the Rock Island Rocket chorus under the direction of Dorothy Proper. This choral group is highly recommended. The next night, Saturday, Aug. 20, Miss Donna Schenkel's dancing pupils will perform and on Sunday night the entertainment will be furnished by the Kelly school of dance of Joliet.

H. J. Wrath, supervisor of play at the Mokena Community park and a member of the Mokena public school teaching staff, will serve as master of ceremonies at these programs and also for the parade.

The nightly programs will be highlighted with all kinds of special announcements and awards.

Various business people in the village are donating prizes to be awarded at homecoming.

And speaking of prizes in connection with the homecoming, Darlene Grybush received a dollar last week when she was the first to call Marcella Lehmann with the correct answer to the question—When was the first school house built in Mokena and how much did it cost? The answer was 1855 and $1,000.

The question this week deals with the Algonquin language—"What does Mokena mean in that Indian tongue?"

The first one to call Mrs. Lehmann with the right answer will get a dollar. Her telephone number is Mokena 4561.

Rutledge School
District Voters
Approve Bonds

An election was held in the Ann Rutledge public school in Lincoln Estates Monday afternoon for the purpose of having the taxpayers give their consent to adding two new rooms to the present building and to float a bond issue to pay for it.

There were 99 people who came to vote on that hot day, with 92 voting in favor of both issues, five voting no and two ballots were spoiled. Those who have the interest of the school at heart, and they seem to be in the majority by large, appreciate the favorable vote of the people and the workers who put forth great effort on that hot day for the benefit of their school. The workers were the Mesdames Norman Bradley, Donald Ball, Rudy Urbano, George Kaller, Clint Edmonson, Walter Niedringhaus, Robert Wheeler, James Dixon and Mr. Jay Bissell.

Work on the new addition will begin at once.

Exploding Bottle
Inflicts 5-Stitch Cut
On Woman's Knee

An exploding bottle sent a Marley woman to St. Joseph's hospital in Joliet last Friday where five stitches were taken to close a gash in her right knee.

The victim was Mrs. Charles Elliott. The accident occurred as she was transferring a bottle of 7-Up from a carton to the refrigerator. The bottle exploded, showering Mrs. Elliott and the kitchen with broken glass. A heavy piece struck her on the right knee.

Mrs. Elliott was alone at the time. She saw that the cut was long and deep and was bleeding profusely, so she bound it up tightly and getting out the car drove to the hospital, where she was treated and released.

Area 4-H Group

Joliet Pageant

The Will county 4-H fair held last week at Joliet Memorial stadium in conjunction with the Pageant of Progress was one of the best in the history of the organization, according to those in charge.

Several 4-H'ers from this area had exhibits that won awards.

Linda Masovic, of Mokena who has had but two years of 4-H work showed a Hereford that was named grand champion beef female of the show.

Dale Kratzberg, 20, of Frankfort, won the champion dairy showman's award for the second consecutive year.

Wendell Anderson, of New Lenox, had the champion exhibition garden.

In the foods division two Green Garden girls were among the winners, Marianne Wieland for her apple sauce, nut bread, and Janet Voight, for her waffles.

Winners in the Class A competition for making clothes, included, Carolyn Rinke and Lenora Bormet, of Mokena; Jo Ann Schultz, Ruth Ann Rainford, of Frankfort; Jane Oram, Pat Gilgen and Eleanor Hammond, of New Lenox, and Joyce Heisner and Wilma Schuldt of Green Garden.

L-W BAKE SALE

The Lincoln-Way high school Band Parents will sponsor a bake sale Saturday afternoon, Aug. 6, starting at 1:30 o'clock. It will be held in the Consumers Hardware store in Manhattan.

On Aug. 27, the same group will sponsor another bake sale which will be held in the Trump garage in Frankfort.

3-L-W Graduates
Win Scholarships
To Study Teaching

Three girls, graduates of Lincoln-Way high school in June, have been awarded teacher training scholarships, it has been announced by County School Superintendent Verne Cracker.

In all 23 such scholarships were given in the county. The three from Lincoln-Way are, Mary Lou Loebe, of New Lenox, and Karen Piepenbrink and Patricia Ann Heisner of Frankfort.

The certificates of scholarship entitles the holders to free instruction, matriculation fees, tuition, activities fees or other fees except laboratory fees and similar fees for material and supplies in any of the following institutions: Illinois State Normal, Northern Illinois State Teachers college, Eastern Illinois State Teachers college, Western Illinois State college and Southern Illinois university for a period of not more than four school years.

Mokena Lawyer To Serve On State Bar
Insurance Group

Attorney Thomas P. Powers of Parker st., Mokena, has recently been appointed to the executive committee of the Illinois State Bar association's section on Insurance law. At a recent meeting in Chicago the section appointed a special committee to function as a liaison group with insurance companies to promote better cooperation between the companies and Illinois lawyers in solving common problems arising in the interpretation of policies and payment of proceeds. Mr. Powers is associated with the Maryland Casualty Co.

DANCE SUCCESSFUL

To further the library project, in which the Woman's club was joined by the Tinley Lions club, a dance was given at Saenger's hall last Saturday night which netted more than $900 for the library fund. The Woman's club and the Lions expressed themselves as deeply grateful for the cooperation given them in all phases of the project, the book collection and the sale of tickets for the dance. Incidentally, the attendance at the dance was large, despite the heat.

Getting back to the sales tax the state law limits its collection to a two-year period but the general assembly can extend its life and political observers are inclined to believe that it will be extended, pointing out that taxing bodies rarely relinquish use of a source of revenue once it has been employed.

So while the village must figure that its sales tax will be in force but two years, those familiar with such things believe it will continue for years to come, unless some substitute measure is found.

Liquor Sales To Minors Will Bring Trouble

Notice has been served on all tavern owners, club operators and proprietors of all establishments licensed to sell intoxicating beverages that service to minors will bring trouble. The warning also says offending minors will be prosecuted.

A communication to this effect has been mailed out to all establishments where liquor is sold, and is signed by State Attorney Frank H. Masters Jr., Sheriff Roy C. Doerflinger, and Meade Baltz, Will county liquor commissioner.

The notice warns that the person serving a minor with intoxicating beverages will be prosecuted and that at the same time steps will be taken to revoke the license of the establishment where the offense occurs.

Prosecute Minors Too

The communication reads in part as follows: "The undersigned appreciate that a great majority of tavern owners, club operators, etc., do not indulge in this vicious practice. However, reports and rumors of such illegal sales have reached the undersigned and it is the purpose of this letter to advise all concerned of the illegality of such sales and of the fact that no 'second chance' will be given to any offender. For the purpose of policing this situation, the undersigned have designated certain authorized persons to make continual investigations in this respect.

"In connection with the foregoing, notice is being given through the public press that any minor who represents that he is of age for the purpose of buying intoxicating liquors will be prosecuted under the provision of the Illinois Liquor Control act which provides for a fine, or imprisonment in the County Jail, or both.

"All tavern owners, club operators, minors or parents of minors are requested to take full and fair warning as to the consequences that will follow to any person violating the laws as herein set forth."

Whirling Cutter
Almost Severs
Operator's Foot

Edward Olendorf, 114th st., Mokena, came within a hair's breadth of losing his right foot Sunday while cutting weeds. He was working in his back yard using a whipper cutter attached to the front of his tractor.

It was growing dusk when he stopped and as he stepped around to short the cutter off, he got too close to it. The whirling blades struck him just above and at the rear of his right ankle, slashing thru bone and tissue and leaving the foot hanging on two slender tendons.

A neighbor, Mrs. Milo Danley, rushed to his aid and applied a tourniquet to check the bleeding until medical aid arrived. Dr. E. R. McMahon had the injured man removed to Silver Cross hospital where Mr. Olendorf underwent surgery and it was believed the foot will be saved.

Tinley Adopts
City Sales Tax;
Effective Sept. 1

Beginning Sept. 1, a village sales tax of one-half of one percent will be in effect in Tinley Park. Such a tax will be levied on the gross retail sales within the village. Thus the total sales tax to be imposed will be three per cent.

The sales tax was formerly two per cent but at the last session of the legislature the law was amended to increase it one-half of one per cent for the state and one-half of one per cent to be collected for such cities and villages that elect to put it in force.

The Tinley Park village board adopted an ordinance at its meeting Monday night whereby a city or village sales tax is to be levied on retail sales. This ordinance, which is published as a legal notice elsewhere in this issue of the paper, was drawn by Village Attorney Raymond Pieper in conformance with the state law and the provisions of a measure suggested by the Illinois Municipal league.

Previous to the action taken by the Tinley Park board, 79 other cities and villages in the state had adopted similar ordinances.

Mokena Board Lacks
Quorum: Special
Meeting Tonight

Due to the absence of David McMillan, Lyman Teague and Charles Burkhardt, trustees, the Mokena village board lacked a quorum Tuesday night and therefore, no meeting was held.

Mayor Searth is calling a special meeting for this evening August 4 to take care of the annual appropriation ordinance and levy which must be made soon. Some of the above members are on vacation.

You can use up to 50 per cent oats in the grain ration for breeding animals, suggests a University of Illinois livestock specialist.

A week from now the Frankfort centennial celebration will be on in full swing.

Observance of the 100th anniversary of this community of friends and neighbors will follow a variety of forms.

The occasion will be ushered in by a Queen's ball in the Frankfort school - gymnasium next Wednesday night. The crowning of the queen will not take place until 8:15 Thursday night but the winner of the contest and the names of the girls who make up the court of honor will be announced at the ball.

Sen. Lottie Holman O'Neill will preside at the coronation of the queen which will take place on the stage on the baseball diamond.

Frankfort has arranged its celebration differently than most communities. In most villages celebrating a similar occasion, the carnival attractions border the principal street, but not at Frankfort. The school grounds and baseball diamond will serve as the site for the rides and booths, and the historical pageant is to be staged on the ball diamond.

The parades, of course, will make use of the streets and on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 13, when the children's parade is held and on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 14, parking will be banned on the streets that make up the routes.

Next Thursday will be "Ladies Day", when the final judging of the Centennial Belles will take place. The following day, Friday, is listed as "Pioneer and Homecoming Day", and that evening the beards and other hirsute decorations will be inspected, judged and prizes awarded.

These facial foliage fanciers appear on the program as "Brothers of the Brush". How they rid themselves of this excess hair is the problem and those in charge of the centennial decline to take any responsibility for this phase of the operation.

Saturday is to be "Neighbor Day" and will be a busy one. The afternoon is crowded with events. First at 2 o'clock there is to be a childrens parade. It will form in the Michigan Central railroad yard and after circling the village will return to the starting point where prizes will be awarded.

Those desirous of entering this parade must register at Melcher's store before Saturday of this week. Entries are on display at the store. Awards will be given to winners in the pet parade by a packing company which manufactures dog food. All and any kind of dogs and household pets are eligible.

There will be a matinee at the carnival for the kids on the 13th too, beginning at 3 o'clock. U. S. Senator Dirksen is to speak to a close Sunday night with a record attendance making the affair successful from all angles.

The following were awarded prizes: Mrs. Lillian Boleman, electric frying pan; Mrs. Fred Guendling, Deluxe patch quilt; Ted Pethes, double window fan; Mrs. Lillian Boleman, kitchen stool; Art Marshall, copper pan set; Mrs. Betty Nelson, chrome deep fry; Mrs. Eileen Owens, complete fishing set; Miss Mary Ann Malher, Dacron comforter; Mrs. Mary Stanis, automatic coffee maker; Mrs. Ethel Marshall, stainless steel kitchen tool set; Mrs. Ann Gunhouse, Frank Gottlieb, Mrs. William Klinger and Mrs. Mary Stanis, each a blanket; Mrs. George Krueger, Mrs. Ann Gunhouse, David Hall each a mantel clock; Mrs. Marie Starnes, table model radio; Larry Weathers and Robert Munch, each groceries; Mrs. Douglas Lazvizi, upholstered chair and Mrs. Kunz, patch quilt.

The final night was the time most awaited for, as the 1955 Ford Mainliner car, purchased from Cooper and Hostert, was to be given away. It was awarded to Jake Barez of Mokena, and the rotisserie was awarded to Josephine of Chicago. The committee in charge of the awarding consisted of Mayor John B. Searth, Police Officer Vernon Bormet and Harley Mann, representing the Mokena Civic association.

At 7:30 on the evening of the 13th the mayors of neighboring communities are scheduled to take part in a milking contest.

Sunday, Aug. 14, is "Centennial Religious Dedication Day." There will be a union service conducted that morning at 10:30 o'clock in the school gymnasium.

The Rev. Erich Bizer, pastor of St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church and the Rev. Ben Dav, pastor of the Frankfort Methodist church, will officiate at this service and a special centennial choir will sing.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon there is to be a parade featured by floats and bands.

Each night an historical pageant, "Frankfort Through the Years", will be staged on the baseball diamond. There are 270 persons in the cast and they have been and are working hard to produce a spectacle that will be long remembered.

The pageant will begin at 8:30 pm. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday but will start at 8 o'clock on the last night, Sunday, Aug. 14.

The centennial queen will receive numerous prizes, including a trip to New York. She and her chaperone will travel by air and will spend three days in New York at the Waldorf-Astoria. The centennial corporation will give her $100 for spending money in New York.

Mrs. W. V. Hedges of Frankfort helps Juanita Hansen, her neighbor, select one of the hundreds of souvenir centennial dolls she has designed and dressed for the village's centennial celebration set Aug. 11 thru 14.

Mrs. W. V. Hedges Turns Out Dolls For Centennial

By ADA M. LAMBRECHT

"I just love to make these," said Mrs. W. V. Hedges as she surveyed the newest batch of centennial dolls displayed on a pool table in the recreation room of her home in Frankfort. "When the centennial celebration is over, I guess I'll start on Christmas angels!"

It was with the same enthusiasm that Mrs. Hedges decided to make tiny lapel dolls dressed as pioneers and designed to publicize the village's 100th anniversary celebration August 11 through 14.

The project was first adopted by the Frankfort Woman's club and met with such success that Mrs. Hedges asked for helpers and used her talent to make dresses for larger dolls to be sold as souvenirs and novelties. More than 1,000 lapel dolls and 150 pioneer and Clay 90's dolls have been sold already. Willing members of the Frankfort Woman's club, American Legion auxiliary, Honey Bees 4H club, friends and neighbors have had a part in the undertaking. The Hedges' basement is a veritable factory and dolls are turned out in assembly line production.

Final Assembly
Much of the preliminary work is done in other homes and brought to Mrs. Hedges for final touches and assembly. After a neighborhood breakfast last week, one group of women turned out a quantity of heads for the smaller dolls. They are made of organdy stuffed with cotton and attached to pipe cleaner bodies. Faces are embroidered and yarn is sewed on for hair. With percale dresses, matching bonnets and aprons, the dolls are ready for wearing.

Much more work is involved in dressing the 8-inch plastic dolls — little beauties with wavy hair and eyes that close. They are truly collectors' items and win the admiration of all who see them—even the men. When cutting patterns, Mrs. Hedges has to have her change purse handy. She uses a penny to measure the neckline and a nickel for the center of the 10 1/2 inch skirt to form the waist band. Bonnets on the smaller dolls require a piece of material the size of a silver dollar.

Dresses Removable
Anyone who has ever set in a sleeve can imagine what a trick it is to set one in that is 1/2 inch in diameter. They are edged with narrow lace. Bodices are faced with self material and dresses are removable for washing if necessary—so perfect is the workmanship.

Little pink satin panties and a ruffled organdy petticoat are a foundation for a bouffant skirt. After the dress, a tiny Paris creation of a hat is added and the ensemble is complemented with either a parasol or a pouch bag or lace mitts. Ingenuity is the keynote to Mrs. Hedges' hat making. Bits of old straw hats are remodeled into rakish sailors, garden and picture hats, cloches or bonnets. They are trimmed with miniature flowers, bows, ribbons and feathers. Some purchasers are so intrigued they return with scraps of lace and other bits to add to the stock pile of needed materials. Leftovers from the villagers' centennial dresses have been made into some of the most attractive gowns. Most of the goods were purchased in small lots to add variety and color to the collection.

Win Acclaim

Fame Spreads

The fame of Mrs. Hedges' dolls has become widespread since she appeared with a group of Frankfort people on a recent television program publicizing the coming event. She showed such exciting characters as Lillian Russell and Scarlett O'Hara as well as typical pioneer, Civil War and Centennial Belles.

Matteson's Sisters of the Swish were so taken by Frankfort's dolls that they ordered hundreds of the lapel variety as souvenirs of their own centennial event which ended Sunday.

Wife of a retired physician and surgeon, Mrs. Hedges has a hobby of arts and crafts. During World War II when her sons Roger and Alan were members of a children's club which she organized to aid the war effort, Mrs. Hedges made hundreds of dolls dressed as sailors, soldiers, airmen and marines. She taught the youngsters to help and the success of the project was outstanding.

All varieties of dolls will be sold before and during the Frankfort centennial — providing Mrs. Hedges and her crew of helpers can keep up with the steadily increasing demand for the souvenirs that are precious to little girls and conversation pieces for their mothers.

Bremen Home Unit Discusses Lighting

Bremen Home bureau meeting was held July 26 at 8 p.m. in St. Paul's Community church in Homewood, with the Busy Homemakers and Homewood unit.

The lesson, "New lighting for the home" was presented by Claradel Upham. She also told of interesting high-lights in her trip to Colorado where she attended summer school for home and farm advisors.

Bremen hostesses for the evening were Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Richard Seidel.

Sunset Review Holds Initiation

The Woman's Benefit association, Sunset Review 160 met July 23 in the American Legion hall at 7:30 p.m. with Mildred Sayre, presiding protom.

Recreation chairman, Helen Johnston reported on the commission's meeting of the preceding week and the group decided to staff a booth at the Labor-Day carnival.

Obligation was given to Betty Swartz by past-president Helen Breitbarth.

The association presented Joan Breitbarth with a pressure cooker as a shower-gift. Joan will become the bride of Harry Lash on Aug. 27th.

The group balloted on a new member during the business proceedings.

Members of the association extended the courtesy of serving at the James J. Johnston home the day of Mr. Johnston's burial. The next meeting will be August 18.

Hostess for the evening were Mrs. Helen Breitbarth assisted by her daughter Joan and Linda Mumford.

New Generator Adds To Power Stockpile

Commonwealth Edison company has put another big 160,000 kilowatt turbine generator in service at its new Will county station, Willis Gale, chairman, announced today. The station began operating last March with an initial 160,000 kilowatt unit. With a third unit scheduled for completion at State Line Station late this year, Commonwealth will add more new generating capacity in 1955 than in any one year in its history," Mr. Gale said.

The State Line unit with the two Will county units, with other changes, will bring the 1955 net addition to 475,000 kilowatts.

More to Come

Located on the Chicago Sanitary and ship canal near Lemont, Will county station is the newest project in Commonwealth's billion-dollar, thirteen-year construction program. The station has a third unit, rated at 250,000 kilowatts, under construction and scheduled for completion in 1957.

Including a damaged 160,000 kilowatt unit at Ridgeland station, which is expected to be back in service by the end of this year, Commonwealth will have capacity of 3,897,000 kilowatts to meet the 1955-56 winter peak.

Edison's present construction program calls for generating capacity of 4,277,000 kilowatts by the end of 1956, or nearly double the capacity at the end of World War II.

From 1946 through 1954, the Commonwealth Edison system's construction expenditures exceeded $758,000,000 and for the four year period 1955 through 1958 are estimated at $420,000,000.

COOK CO. 4-H ON TV SUNDAY

Cook county's two agricultural fairs, which will be held during August, will be featured on "Farmtown, USA" on Sunday, August 7.

Six 4H boys and girls will exhibit their projects, including livestock, with the help of George Menard, master of ceremonies on the half hour show. The program can be viewed at 2 pm. each Sunday on WBBM-TV, channel 2 Chicago.

"Farmtown, USA" is presented by the CBS education department in cooperation with the Pure Milk Association and the Illinois Agricultural association.

The North Cook county fair is scheduled for Aug. 12-14 at the Arlington Park race track. The South Cook county fair will be held Aug. 19-21 at Woodrow Wilson Woods, Chicago Heights. Assistant farm advisers who work in the respective sections of the county will appear on the program. William Whiteside works in the south half of the county while John Bickett will tell about the north fair.

Members of 4H clubs who will appear include the following: Robert Kohl, Matteson, Shropshire sheep; Bill Lorenz, Chicago Heights; Darce Swine; Carol Simson, Tinley Park; poultry; Melvin Meyer, Palatine. Holstein heifer; Wesley Plote, Palatine; Angus steer; and Marlene Kramber, Arlington Heights, clothing.

TATTERSALL TO SEEK FOURTH WIN SATURDAY

Drivers had an extra week to tune their cars before the next midget auto racing program in Joliet Memorial Stadium Saturday, Aug. 6. Last Saturday's program wasn't run because of the Pageant of Progress in the stadium.

Rain stopped Bob Tattersall in his bid for a fourth consecutive feature race victory July 23, but the Streater pilot will try again this Saturday. No one has ever won four straight features in the four-year history of racing in the Stadium.

Hank Nykaza of Chicago Heights whom most fans feel is long overdue, will be trying for his first main event victory. Nykaza, a newcomer to the track this season, has been in contention in practically every race.

Among the others considered most likely to stop Tattersall are Sam Robinson of Rockdale, and Jim Bender of Des Plaines, with a feature victory apiece to their credit; former track champions Tony Lenti of Chicago and Ken Rubright of Lyndon; and Bud Abraham and Johnny Riva of Chicago, Dan Curley of Maywood, Chuck Green of Ottawa and Corky Singer and Tony Saylor, Joliet.

The program will include four heat races, a handicap race, 15 lap semifeature and 25 lap feature, starting with time trials at 7:30 p.m.

TIGERS LOSE TO LANSING, OUT OF RACE

The Sportsman's ball club of Tinley Park suffered its worst defeat of the season last Sunday when they were beaten by a much-improved Lansing club, 16-2. This loss virtually eliminates Tinley from the first-place race, having now lost to Calumet Park, Dolton, Flossmoor, and Lansing. Their season record now stands at five wins and five defeats.

The Tinley Tigers were the first to score in the lopsided contest Sunday but couldn't hold their early lead. Ron Harnack opened the 1st inning with a fly ball to the outfield which dropped in between the left fielder and the center fielder for two bases. Paul Ebeling sacrificed Harnack to third where he scored on Les Becue's single to center. The only other Tinley run came in the seventh inning when "Moog" Naseband singled, went to second on a fielder's choice by Dan Anfield, and scored when the first baseman let the ball get by him as Les Rump grounded to the third baseman.

Thirteen walks by three Tinley pitchers set up run-scoring in every inning but the first, fifth and last. Ron Shaper started for Tinley but was removed in the third after walking the bases full and then walking in a run. Les Rump took over until the seventh inning when the Lansing players got to him for five runs on three hits. Slick Sedlacek worked the remaining innings allowing three runs on five hits.

TINLEY PONIES, BEECHER READY FOR BIG GAME

Tinley Park Healy Ponies, who had won every game up to last week, is now tied with Beecher in play for the championship of the Wilco league. Each team has won one game and will play the deciding tilt Saturday, Aug. 6.

This final game is to be played at the Fulton school diamond in Tinley Park and is scheduled to begin at 4:30 o'clock. In the event there is rain the game will be played Monday, Aug. 7, according to those in charge.

A hustling Beecher club surprised the Tinley last Saturday in the first of the three-game title series in a game played at Beecher.

Tinley jumped off to an early lead, counting three runs in the second and two more in the third inning. Beecher scored in the fourth when Tinley made a couple of boots and then went on to tie the count in the fifth. Tinley moved ahead again in the sixth but two runs in the seventh and final inning gave Beecher the game, 7 to 6, and the distinction of being the first team to defeat Tinley this year.

But Tinley came swarming back Sunday night, July 31, on its own diamond and played Beecher 17 to 5. Tinley fashioned its victory out of 18 hits, with three of the team having a perfect day, Hartman with 4 for 4, and Rodger and Tatum each 3 for 3. Miller, the Tinley pitcher, had 14 strikeouts to his credit and shut Beecher off with two hits.

Cherry Pickers Pin Loop to Meet Monday

Beards strike the proper note at a centennial celebration and these Brothers of the Brush from Frankfort sporting the tonsorial effects of a bygone day, can also hit the notes of songs of long ago. Grouped at the piano, left to right, are Lloyd Lühring, Wilburg Kleir, Clare Warning, Franklin Christiansen, Walter Harnack, Fred Beckman, and seated at the piano is Conrad Mark. Apparently looking over the top of the piano - but actually in another picture - left to right are, David Friant, Mr. Mark, Walter Harnack, Mr. Klier, Conrad Haakinson, Andy Willricj and Chuck Zitter. This arrangement gives Messrs. Mark and Klier opportunity to keep an eye on themselves.

Wagon Wheels to Jets Frankfort Observes Passing of Century

1855 - 1955. A full century has cake if one wishes to go back turned in the life of Frankfort, to the beginning because the first and this fact will be observed settlers in these parts arrived next week when residents of this village stage a four-day celebration in honor of the event.

Lack of land to meet the needs of a primarily agricultural people along the eastern seaboard caused a migration westward to the 100 on its birthday the lush soil of the prairie country. Later congestion in the mid-west would drive people on further west but in the 1830's Illinois was a "far piece" indeed from the cities and villages of the east and apart of the frontier.

The Black Hawk War in 1832 caused a flurry among the settlers. Joliet had its Fort Nonsense in case the Indians got that far. But the settlers in the Frankfort area chose to withdraw to the Wabash Settlement near LaFayette, Ind., which was quite a trek, rather than trust to the small, waterless stockade that was erected on the first bluff west of the DesPlaines river on what is now Broadway in Joliet a hundred or so feet north of Western ave.

Kept Land and Hair
Not all left the Frankfort area, however. The Rev. Francis Owen and the Cornelius Van Horn families elected to remain and kept their land and hair too. The Indians did not include the area in their campaign. Incidentally two direct descendants of the Rev. Mr. Owen still live here, Glenn Folkers who is a resident of the village of Frankfort, and Marion Owen, who lives a few miles west.

Frankfort was named after Frankfort-am-Main in Germany. From this plus the fact that many of the community are of German stock, it is generally believed that the first settlers of Frankfort were Germans. This is not so. The first settlers in the area were of British stock and the first settlement, which was established approximately a mile north and west of the present village, was known as Chelsea. It was located on what is now known as the Thompson farm, formerly the Claves place.

Levi Claves was one of the early comers, along with William B. Cleveland, John Leffler, the McGlashans, Letts, Logans, Carpenters, Stephens, Ruggles, Holden - the first doctor - the Hunts, Dotys and McDonalds.

Not long afterwards the Germans began to arrive. Included among these first arrivals were John Bobzin, John Feil, Thomas Herschbach, John Nieland, Fred Leppa, Abraham Minger, John Kohlhaugen, Johnson Folkers and the Schroeders.

Wanted Farms
Most of the people who came west in the early days wanted land on which to farm. They either brought their families or got married as quickly as possible and started raising families. Families were really a necessity. Farm hands were few in the early days of the mid-west. Men who had worked for others in the east elected to take up land of their own when they came west. It was a great opportunity! Some of the land was free - if one had served in the army and all of it was cheap, even in a time of dear money. A dollar and a dollar and a quarter an acre bought prime land. The more help a man had the more land he could farm. Therefore, a man with a large family, especially if there was a preponderance of boys, held an advantage. From a standpoint of practical economy boys were more desired than girls but in those times all was grist that came to the settler's mill and if a man had girls instead of boys he used them the best he could.

But not everyone came west to farm. Someone had to serve the people who served the land and thus villages were born. Before railroads the country abounded with villages. Each served as a marketing center for the farms in the surrounding area. Most villages served an area with a radius of about five to seven miles. That was about the maximum distance for transport. A man could walk into town and back if he had to, and if he came horseback or made the trip with horses and wagon, he could make the round trip without losing all of the day.

Villages Show Gains
Later when the railroads came it was no longer necessary to have villages so close to the farms, and of course, the automobile and paved roads practically finished the village as a marketing center. For many years village populations declined after they no longer served as merchandizing centers but for more than a decade now people have been streaming out from the cities in search of more spacious living and have found it either in villages that were established or in villages built especially for the purpose.

In the pioneer days of railroading scores of roads were organized. Some operated for a period and then died. Some never grew beyond the paper stage, although there was a railroad that while it never had tracks or trains, did build a general office which still stands in Tinley Park, south and west of the Rock Island station. Some roads built in the early fifties are still serving communities.

The Joliet and Northern Indiana railroad was Frankfort's first transportation other than horse drawn vehicles. This road is now the Michigan Central and like the E.J. & E. serves the community as freight haulers. But when it was the Joliet and Indiana there was a "Dinky" that ran twice a day on which passengers might ride. Then came the interurban that joined Joliet and Chicago Heights. There was a car barn in Frankfort too, in the building now occupied by the A. C. Bauch garage.

The automobile struck the death blow to the interurban. Frankfort's only public passenger transportation now is a bus that plies between the Heights and Joliet. Some of its freight still comes by train but most of it now is transported by trucks. And probably before Frankfort celebrates its second century, people will be saying, "Trucks? How quaint!" for by then most transport probably will be airborne.

Has Always Prospered
Frankfort has prospered through its existence. The factors that make for such things were never right for Frankfort to become a city. What the next hundred years will bring is anyone's guess. But that Frankfort will grow as a residential area is to be expected. Chicago is pushing down this way.

And Frankfort has what it takes for a good residential area - a pleasing location, law abiding, industrious people, neat homes, good schools, churches and easy access by automobile to places of employment in Chicago and

It has a Woman's club, P.T.A., Lions club, American Legion post and auxiliary, a Royal Neighbors camp and the Modern Woodmen among its organizations.

It is said - far too often - that the first hundred years are the hardest. In the case of Frankfort it was the first part of the first hundred that was the most difficult.

In its first years there were few roads, no conveniences, a constant battle against the elements, and hard, backbreaking toil. It is quite probable that if the founders of Frankfort could return to the scene today, they would prefer present times to theirs.

There are many things about the "good old days" that were exciting, romantic and no doubt pleasant but few persons who had to put up with the work and inconvenience would care to turn the calendar back.

Looks to Future
Just a taste of the past is enough. By the time the centennial celebration is ended a week from Sunday night, the Centennial Belles who have been wearing those long, street sweeping gowns that must have added to the trials and tribulations of the pioneer women, will be ready to consign such dresses to the attic or ragbag, while the Brothers of the Brush who have been putting up with the discomfort of beards for months, can hardly wait to get rid of them.

Ever since plans for the centennial were discussed last year Frankfort has been living in the past. After the last act of the historical pageant Frankfort will again be living in the present and looking to the future.

Veterinary Medicine Offers Big Field, Says College Head

High school graduates who like animals may want to consider a career in veterinary medicine. Dean Robert Graham of the recognized college. Applicants college of veterinary medicine at the University of Illinois says there is opportunity for top-notch students to enroll in the college. The opening of a new veterinary science building in 1952 increased the capacity for training first and second-year professional students. A new large-animal clinic building, which will be finished this summer, will increase the facilities for training third and fourth year students.

High school graduates who are interested in becoming veterinarians can write to Dean Graham for information.

Mrs. E. Mrosek
Orland 2841-R

The Orland Boys 4-H club met at Maue school Sunday afternoon from where they proceeded on tour to members homes where each exhibited his project.

The club was accompanied by Mrs. Roy Walker, Stanley Yunker, Bud Bettenhausen, Albert Reeves and leaders, Norman Bernard and Edward Mrosek.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felsch, Sandra and Patsy, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pelquin, Nancy, Carol and Linda returned home late Saturday night from a vacation in Michigan.

The vacationers spent a week at Corey Lake. Saturday they visited with Mr. Pelquin's brother, Ted Pelquin at the latter's resort, Glenn Acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kohl, Donny and Mary Lou and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shroats of Orland joined the Pelquins and Felschs for over the week end of July 23rd and 24th at Corey Lake. All report having had a wonderful time.

Sunday afternoon callers at the Edward Mrosek home were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Mrosek, his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Mrosek Jr. and Carol. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stahl and his sister, Miss Lucille Stahl.

It is reported that Norman Bernard, leader of the Orland Boys 4-H club, will join the armed forces, Aug. 24.

Mrs. Stuart Culp, who planned to do most of her entertaining in July because weather forecasters predicted the month would be dry, has not let weather conditions dampen her social plans, and at various times during the month has entertained large groups of friends and fellow lodge members. Recently she had as her guests 18 members of the Mathilda C. World South Side club of past matrons and past patrons of the Eastern Star of 1950. A pot-luck lunch was enjoyed. Following the business meeting card games were played.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reeves entertained at a party Sunday honoring their son Larry and his 11th birthday and the homecoming of Mrs. Paul Vaitkus and daughter of Berwyn who returned Saturday morning from a three and a half-month's vacation spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peach, in Teddington, Middlesex, England.

Mrs. Vaitkus, who was an English war bride, and daughter,

Terry made the trip by a chartered flight that had been arranged for members and families of the English War Brides club. There were 81 passengers of which 49 were children and two were men.

While in England Mrs. Vaitkus says that she saw everything there was to see in London. She enjoyed a trip across the English channel to Guernsey Island where she visited with a sister and went sight-seeing. Although Mrs. Vaitkus and Terry had a wonderful time in England there is one thing the whole family is mutually agreed on and that is that next time Mr. Vaitkus is to go.

Guests were treated to a barbecue and friend chicken supper. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones and son Gordon of Harvey; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wirtz, Barbara, Donna and Tommy; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jaynes, Charles and Miss Carolyn Hommer, all of Dolton; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones, Sandra, Wayne and Bob Williamson all of Riverdale and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vaitkus, Terry, of Berwyn. Late callers were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mrosek and Carla.

Mrs. Charles Bezdek of Alpine accompanied her daughter and other members of the Sunshine Maids 4H club of Orland on a tour of the Service Bakery in Tinley Park, Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mast recently of Park Ridge, but now of New York, visited with their cousins, the Owen Maues, this past week.

Steve Kovar of Wayland, Mich., spent Sunday with his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Froemel and family.

If Bruzz Janulis, Joseph Albert, Jerry Gorman and Larry Semetis seem to have adopted a slightly superior attitude towards their fathers, it just might be that that Orland Pony League game in which the boys defeated their dads last week with a score of 5-4 could have something to do with it.

Mrs. Roy Jones, Sandra and Wayne of Riverdale, vacationed at the home of her husband's sister Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reeves last week.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The fact that spiritual understanding of God results in practical goodness, health, and power will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday, August 7.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible and "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit."

Among the passages to be read from Science and Health is the following (99:23): "The calm, strong currents of true spirituality, the manifestations of which are health, purity, and self-im-molation, must deepen human experience, until the beliefs of material existence are seen to be a bald imposition, and sin, disease, and death give everlasting place to the scientific demonstration of divine Spirit and to God's spiritual, perfect man."

The Golden Text is from Ephesians (5:9): "The fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth."

Out of state students are being admitted to the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine freshman class for the first time, because there are not enough applications from Illinois residents.

PRICE TAG ON 4-H PROJECTS IN 5 FIGURES

The value of 4-H club work done by Cook county's 1000 4-H members last year was $50,000, reports William F. Whiteside, Cook county assistant farm adviser.

A few items and the quantities produced are: Cash grain crops 165 acres, Vegetable crops 45 acres, Poultry 5,100 birds, 100 Dairy animals, 50 Beef animals, 300 Swine and 100 Sheep. Some 500 girls made 1,300 garments, canned 273 quarts of food and planned and prepared 1,000 meals. In addition, they froze 700 quarts of food.

Over 750 members participated in the health activity and 50 boys and girls received training in Junior Leadership.

Fair At Chicago Heights
These tangible items might be called by-products of this program designed to train the head, heart, hands and health of rural youngsters between the ages 10 to 21, Whiteside says. Capable and informed citizens in American communities of tomorrow is the real aim of 4-H club work.

Residents of South Cook county will have an opportunity to see citizenship and project work on display during the 9th annual 4-H fair to be held in Chicago Heights on Aug. 19 - 20 - 21. Visitors will also see exhibits by local merchants of new and useful products for farm and home, automobiles, trucks and farm machinery.

It wasn't too hot for Mom to bake a pie tonight!

Of course not!
She has a new electric range—

MR: What's her new electric range got to do with it?
MRS: Plenty! Her kitchen never gets hot—even when she does a lot of baking.
MR: Well...
MRS: And another thing... her kitchen doesn't get dirty, either. The fumes from that mean piece of ours have ruined the decorating we did this spring!
MR: But...
MRS: So if you think I'm going to spend the rest of my life in the hot stove league... well, you've got another think coming!
MR: Look, dear... if you really want a new electric range that badly, I think we can swing it. Just one thing, though...
MRS: Yes?
MR: I want blueberry pie for dessert the first night it's installed!

Keep your kitchen 10 degrees cooler with a New Electric Range

Recent impartial baking tests (made by independent engineers of the R. W. Hunt Company) prove that modern electric ranges keep your kitchen an average of 10 degrees cooler than the most modern flame-type ranges.
